"Job seekers who read our coverage about the insanely overheated market for workers with security clearances constantly ask me for leads. I tell them that the first stop on their job search should be ClearanceJobs.com, the Monster of the so-called cleared world..."

— Paul Kaihla, Editor, Business 2.0 Magazine

"We talked with several companies that specialize in resume databases of candidates with security clearances before registering with ClearanceJobs.com. Yours was clearly the best for many reasons. We gained confidence that we could find specialized skill sets for our unique hiring needs. We also liked the unique functionality of your search agents."

— Deborah Kriner, Pragmatic Systems, LLC

"Earlier this year our company was presented with a very difficult task of recruiting forty, highly skilled employees with active TS/SCI clearance. ClearanceJobs.com was our single source for these candidates. On your site we found excellent candidates that did have active clearances and were aggressively looking for new employment. Thank you!"

— David Hegarty, American Computer Technologies
