What’s new at Dice

Open Web search
Discover undiscoverable candidates. Access more passives – 2 million and counting – with our Open Web search tool. We source 130 social sites to create one super-profile for each tech pro. It’s infinitely easier to recruit using aggregated info from Facebook, Twitter, Google+, Stack Overflow, GitHub and more.

Slashdot and SourceForge
Two big names in tech, Slashdot and SourceForge, are now part of the Dice family. Our relationship integrates your job openings into sites where tech professionals live and work – enhancing your access.

Slashdot is a user-generated news, analysis and professional insight community. Tech pros comprise 80% of its 3.7 million unique monthly visitors. SourceForge is a destination for tech professionals to develop, download and publish open source software. Approximately 80% of its 40 million unique monthly visitors are outside the U.S.

“Open Web consolidates all the info recruiters have had to work so hard for in the past. It’s fastest, most efficient tool for recruiting I’ve seen.”
— Jeff Winter, Founder & CEO Gravity People
